The normal working hours for the employees of the Texas School Book Depository are from 8:00 A.M. to 4:45 P.M. with a 45-minute lunch period. The employees of the publishing companies have varying work schedules, but all of them are normally out of the building by 5:00 P.M.

Mr. Eddie Piper, age 55, 3405 Mander Avenue, Dallas, telephone TA 5-2193, is employed by the Texas School Book Depository as handyman and janitor. His normal working hours are from 10:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M., and he usually works until 7:00 or 8:00 P.M. Among his duties are to clean the offices and toilets of the Depository after the employees have left for the day. He also checks to see that all the lights are out and doors locked before he leaves. During the evening hours, and usually after Piper leaves the building, two employees of the Arm & Building and Maintenance Company, 901 Love Street, Dallas, come to the Depository Building, and they clean the offices of the publishing companies and the toilets on the second, third, and fourth floors. Those people usually leave the building around midnight. They are furnished with keys to the building and are required to lock the entrance when they leave. The building then remains unoccupied for the rest of the night.

The Smith Detective Agency and Nightwatch Service, 510 N. Akard Street, Dallas, makes periodic checks of the building during the night-time hours, to determine whether all doors are locked and all lights out.

The portions of the first, second, third and fourth floors, not occupied by offices, are used for book storage, and the entire fifth, sixth, and seventh floors are used for book storage. The actual filling of orders and packing of books for shipment takes place on the first floor of the building.

During the period of December 2 through 5, 1963, all personnel employed in this building were interviewed and the results of those interviews are set forth as follows:

Mr. Jack G. Cason, President of the Texas School Book Depository, stated that to his knowledge he had never seen Oswald. Among Mr. Cason's duties are public relations and he is away from the building much of the time in that capacity. On November 22, 1963, Mr. Cason left the building at about 12:00 P.M. to meet some friends who were arriving in town to attend his daughter's wedding scheduled for November 23, 1963. Therefore, he was not in the building or in the area at the time of the assassination and had no knowledge of those events.

Mr. G. V. Campbell, Vice-President of the Depository, advised that although he does not have the title, he actually acts as office manager, takes care of the payroll, and does the hiring of office personnel. The office of this firm is located on the second floor of the building and the office personnel has very little, if any, contact with the warehouse employees. Mr. Campbell continued that to his knowledge he had never known Oswald, and does not recall ever having seen him prior to the time Oswald's photograph was shown on television on the day of the shooting. At the time of the shooting, Mr. Campbell was standing on the steps at the front entrance to the Depository Building, and was unable to furnish any pertinent information concerning the assassination.

Mr. Campbell continued that Oswald had made no provisions for disposition of wages due him for the week of November 13, 1963. The actual amount due, after deductions, was $83.37, representing four and one-half day's pay from Monday, November 13, to noon on November 22, 1963. All of the warehouse employees including Oswald are normally paid in cash on a twice monthly basis. On October 21, 1963, and on November 25, 1963, Oswald was paid $106.41 in cash, representing wages, less deductions, for those periods.

On December 3, 1963, Mr. Campbell wrote a company check, $5073, in the amount of $103.37 payable to Mrs. Lee Harvey Oswald, and representing full payment due Oswald for his last week of employment. This check was turned over to Special Agent William H. Carter, Secret Service, for delivery to Mrs. Marina Oswald, widow. Mr. Campbell also furnished a copy of Oswald's I-4 form which was executed on October 16, 1963, the first day of his employment.

Mr. Roy S. Truly, Director of the Texas School Book Depository, and Superintendent of Operations, has been interviewed on several occasions between November 25 and December 4, 1963. Mr. Truly probably had more contact with Oswald than any of the other employees at the Depository.

Mr. Truly stated that Oswald's employment with this firm resulted from the following circumstances: On or about October 12, 1963, Mr. Truly received a telephone call from a woman living in Irving, Texas. He had never heard of her prior to that time and did not recognize her name until newspaper stories subsequent to the shooting on November 22, 1963, mentioned a Mrs. Elaine of Irving, Texas, and he then recalled that she was the woman from whom he had received the above-mentioned telephone call. Mrs. Elaine stated that she had a young man staying at her home who was unemployed, in need of a job, and whose wife was expecting a child in the very near future. Mrs. Elaine continued that she had a neighbor whose brother, Wesley Frazier, worked at the Depository, and Frazier had stated that he thought there might be a job open at the Depository.

Mr. Truly stated that he did need a temporary order filler at that time and he told Mrs. Elaine to have her friend come down for an interview. On the following day, October 13, 1963, Lee H. Oswald came to Mr. Truly's office for an interview at which time he told Mr. Truly that he was honorably discharged from the U. S. Marine Corps, that he had never been arrested, or in any difficulty with the police, and that he was badly in need of a job. Mr. Truly decided to hire Oswald and told him to report for work the following day, which was October 16, 1963. During the first few hours of his employment, Oswald worked
