

Q. And do you recall that when Elbery left and went out, the first person you told us went out the door right after him was King, right?

A. (Witness nods affirmatively.)

Q. And at that point, you - you're saying you were, not on the phone to the Worcester P.D. or to anybody else, right?

A. Somebody yelled: "Call the police." I unfortunately waited.

Q. All right. But not getting into whether it was a right or wrong decision, the fact is that at the time that King walked out the door to go after Elbery, right, you were not on the phone--

A. No.

Q. right? And there was no way that Mr. King could have seen you on the phone at the time he left to chase Mr. Elbery?

A. No .

Q. Okay. Now, after he walked out the door, obviously you're no longer seeing Mr. Elbery or Mr. King, right?

A. (Witness nods affirmatively.)

Q. How long do you wait before anything else happens that you were involved with?
