

remember, you know.

Q. Okay. But whatever you said, if you said anything about the eye, you said it because Wyne said something --

A. Right.

Q. --about an eye?

A. I was not close enough to see what happened, right.

Q. Now, do you recall saying to the dispatcher that the person who was injured was a Westboro police officer?

A. I don't, but I may have. I may well have, you know. I don't remember.

Q. And that's because you knew that of your own knowledge from the past?

A. I knew that he was a Westboro police officer, yeah.

Q. So if in fact the initial information that came in to the police was that a Westboro officer was down and that there was an eye injury, that may very well have come from whatever you said on the phone?

A. It might have. Isn't there a is there a recording of what I said?