

THE COURT: Yes, what he said. Okay, yes.

A. Something to the effect about leaving Mr. Schlener alone, stopping bothering Jeff.

Q. Okay. But you had not observed Mr. Elbery bother Jeffrey Schlener?

A. Not at that point.

Q. Right, that's what I mean. Up to the point when King says to him words to the effect of: Stop bothering Schlener you had never seen Elbery bother Schlener --

A. No .

Q. --up to that point?

A. Up to that point. There was a lot of music playing, too, and I was engaged in conversation so --

Q. This wasn't a quiet bar that night, was it?

A. No, the music was playing quite loud, i

Q. So whether or not Schlener and Elbery, standing in close proximity to each other across the bar, were having words with each other, you may or may not have heard that; am I right?

A. What, when Michael and Tommy were
