

A. No, I think they wrestled each other to the street.

Q. All right. They both went down?

A. Right.

Q. And when they both went down, who was on top and who was on bottom?

A. At that point at that point, neither one of them stayed. Mr. Elbery laid there for a moment, and Mr. King got up and walked away.

Q. Okay. And then what happened?

A. And then that's when the rest of us went and we tried to hold Mr. Elbery down till the police came.

Q. All right. So they argued first, they didn't touch each other, then they locked at least arms, pushed each other around to the point where they both in effect wrestled each other to the street, right?

A. Uh-hum

Q. Then Mr. King, after a matter of seconds, got up and moved away?

A. Correct

Q. And you and the others attempted to hold Mr. Elbery down in the street?