

A. I saw the glass flying.

Q. Well, did you see the bottle strike the post?

A. No .

Q. But you're sure it was a post and not the top of the bar?

A. No, I know it was the post.

Q. And that's not because you saw it?

A. Well, I saw where it broke on the post

Q. Was there glass stuck on the post?

A. No, but the glass could not have flown in that girl's face if it had been broken on the bar.

Q. Okay. And from where you were sitting, you could see the blood on the young lady's face, right?

A. She covered her face right away.

Q. Well, could you see the blood, though, through her fingers or whatever?

A. Yeah, well, that's why I went over to her.

Q. And fair to say it was --as you said, the place went --there was a lot of confusion in the place at that point
